Public Protection Bulletin

29th April 2022

Dear colleague,

Public health protection measures are beginning to ease but COVID-19 remains a risk. For the foreseeable future, our member organisations and front-line workers will continue to face significant challenges. As public protection leaders and managers have a responsibility to focus on how we continue to support our staff and volunteers.

As previously reported, our Adult Support and Protection and Child Protection Committees and subgroups have returned to the regular meeting schedules, albeit on video conferencing platforms. We review this on a regular basis to determine when we will be able to meet in person again.

People continue to tell us these bulletins are a valuable source of information and accordingly, we will continue to seek out the latest news and provide electronic links to more detailed articles. In order to ensure that the bulletin meets the needs of public protection professionals in Glasgow, we have included a link to a short survey so that you can tell us what you think of the bulletin and how it could be improved. We would very much appreciate it if you would take 5 minutes to complete it. Please continue to share any interesting news or developments from your particular agency or organisation.

In this edition you will find a link to a Significant Case Review Report. This demonstrates our ongoing commitment to regularly reviewing and auditing policy and practice. Any lessons learned from these reviews have been referred to the relevant Quality Assurance Subgroup to progress further work as necessary and for dissemination of learning to relevant groups and people. This represents a key component of our commitment to self-evaluation and continuous improvement, and we thank those who contributed to and led the review.

We hope you find something of interest to you in the articles below.

Please stay safe and healthy.

Best wishes,

Colin

Colin Anderson,
Independent Chair
Adult Support & Protection Committee/Child Protection Committee

Glasgow Public Protection Committees

Significant Case Review in Respect of Adult A

Significant Case Reviews (now Learning Reviews) are used to learn from what has happened when a child or adult at risk of harm has died or been significantly harmed in order to improve systems and practice, and provide better protection in the future.

This case was referred to the Adult Support and Protection Committee following the death of Adult A, who was in hospital recovering from injuries sustained whilst receiving 24-hour care, purchased for her by Glasgow City Health and Social Care Partnership (HSCP).

Glasgow Public Protection Committees Bulletin Survey

To ensure that the bulletin continues to meet the needs of public protection professionals in Glasgow, we have designed a short survey so that you can tell us what you think of the bulletin and how it could be improved. We would very much appreciate it if you would take 5 minutes to complete it.

Older People & Dementia

Update to quality framework for care homes for adults and older people

The Scottish Government has created two additional Health and Social Care Standards that are focused on connection for people. These are specific for care homes for adults and older people and are designed to support people who experience care to stay connected with people who are important to them, even when an outbreak means that routine visiting may be restricted. The new standards also enable people to be supported and cared for by people who are important to them if they choose.

Scottish Government Consultation: Health and Social Care Strategy for Older People

This strategy will build on the work which has already been undertaken across Scotland to deliver integrated, person centred health and social care for older people, address gaps, and develop any new priorities from emerging areas of work from, for example, the impact of Coronavirus. This consultation forms part of the engagement to develop the new health and social care strategy for older people. Consultation is open until 19 June 2022.

Carers

Care Inspectorate – Unpaid Carer Inquiry

It is estimated that before the Covid-19 pandemic there were around 700,000 to 800,000 unpaid carers in Scotland. Recent polls suggest this may now have risen to over a million. Unpaid carers are a vital part of the health and social care system, however caring responsibilities affect many carers' mental and physical health. The Care Inspectorate is carrying out a national inquiry into adult unpaid carers experiences of social work and social care.

The survey will be open until Friday 3 June and covers all adults who care and need care but not children and young carers. It takes no more than 15 minutes to complete.
