HSCP View of Current Challenges

- Pandemic response and a thank you
- Years when decades happen
- Cusp of profound change in health and care
- Essential we position ourselves to shape and take advantage

Be part of the conversation: Influence our strategic direction

HSCP Priorities

- Duty of care drives everything
- Service user/ patient voice is heard
- Enable independence
- Build individual and community capacity
- Deploy resources efficiently and to maximum effect

Reflections on Co-production

- Words are cheap
- HSCP can't succeed in isolation
- Example – Maximising Independence
- Imperfect science
- Trust is difficult to establish and easy to lose
- Must extend beyond orgs – to people and communities

Group discussions

1. What matters most to you, someone you support, or your organisation at the moment and for the future?
2. In relation to co-production and engagement with people who need/use health and care services and the community:
 - What's going well? What could be better, and why?
 - What would make a difference for you or someone you support/your organisation?

What happens next?

- Engagement and consultation throughout 2022
- Initial feedback will be collected and used to draft a plan
- Plan will go to formal consultation (from July)
- A variety of engagement and consultation activity is being planned with partners across the city – next event soon.
- Final draft will be taken to IJB in March 2023
- HSCP will publish suggestions received and action taken to show how engagement shapes the plan.
