6. Connect and Flourish: A Socially Connected Glasgow Strategy

Fiona Moss and Nicola Fullarton presented a report which presents the cities first strategy to address isolation and loneliness, launched as part of the Maximising Independence programme on 23rd June 2022. A presentation was also delivered on the Socially Connected Glasgow Strategy and is available on the Glasgow City HSCP website.

Members questioned what funding is available via the Winter Social Wellbeing Fund and whether organisations can make multiple applications.

Officers advised that last year the total funding was £170k. This year the total funding available is £400k funding and at least £300k will go into the Winter Social Wellbeing Fund. Organisations can bid once for this fund, but there are other funds available. It was acknowledged however that smaller projects may not have the resource to co-ordinate multiple bids being submitted.

Members highlighted the impact on the cost of living and the need to ensure the funding is spread and reaches the right charities.

Members questioned if the funding can be used to enable charities to pay for utility bills, etc.

Officers advised that the funding covers a wide range of areas and is used for whatever organisations require to have social connection, with some exceptions such as alcohol.

Members questioned how the funding is accessed and requested a list of organisations that received funding. Officers advised that they could circulate a report from last year to show the organisations that are funded.

Once the process for accessing the Wellbeing for Longer in Glasgow Fund 2023-25, is open, the details will be shared with Members.

Members thanked Officers for the presentation.

The IJB Public Engagement Committee:

- a) noted the contents of the report; and
- b) Advocated for HSCP involvement in progressing the recommendations with partners and funders in Glasgow.

7. Carer Engagement – YC Connect (The Dixon Community)

Julie Young verbally updated on carer engagement and YC Connect within the Dixon Community.

Background:

- During the pandemic many opportunities for carers stopped or moved online and through discussions carers highlighted that they wanted to continue to have their voices and concerns heard.
- When restrictions lifted slightly, a blended model was offered to support inclusion in having a voice, either face to face and/or online.
- Young Carers were more challenging to engage, and there was a need to develop something that was meaningful and relevant to them.
- Once interest and trust was established, the Young Carers used Zoom as a creative way to build relationships, explore their needs, and agree actions as reflected in their Young Carer Statements.
- During one of the larger group support sessions, Young Carers decided they did not want the words Young Carer used to define them in a group – YC Connect was born.
- YC Connect is a concept where Young Carers can feel involved and participate in a range of events, have a voice providing opportunities for a broad representation of young carers for engagement, consultation etc

Outcomes:

- Young Carers increased confidence and built capacity to move young carers on to be independent young people.
- Young carers feel valued
- Young carers are learning new skills
- Young carers are getting involved in local youth groups

Opportunities:

- Develop this concept across Glasgow to develop a citywide consultative voice for Young Carers
- Involve and consult with Young Carers on HSCP service developments
- Liaise with Carers Forums
- Meet with elected representatives and HSCP managers

Members thanked Officers for the update and noted the importance of engaging with Young Carers.

The IJB Public Engagement Committee:

a) noted the verbal update.

8. Young People – Committee Representation

Craig Cowan presented a report to introduce for discussion proposals for exploring how to better facilitate and support the representation of young people on the IJB Public Engagement Committee.

Members suggested that Officers engage with Partners who have expertise in the area and views are sought from young people on how they would want to engage with the Committee.

Officers agreed that they would make connections with young people that are already engaging, for example via YC Connect and the Youth Health Network. Once connections are made Officers will update Members at a future meeting.

Officers

IJB Public Engagement Committee:

9. Update from Glasgow Council for Voluntary Sector (GCVS)

Sheena Arthur delivered a presentation on the GCVS Health and Social Care Team. The presentation is available on the Glasgow City HSCP website.

The Health Service user representative raised an issue regarding inconsistent messages being received from different organisations.

Officers advised that they are aware of the disconnect between the decisions that are made and the life of the individual. A key role of GCVS is to make the connections and build relationships. It was agreed that the focus needs to be on individuals as one size doesn't fit all.

The IJB Public Engagement Committee:

- a) noted the contents of the presentation.

10. IJB Strategic Plan Update

Craig Cowan verbally updated on the draft IJB Strategic Plan which is available on the Glasgow City HSCP website.

11. GCHSCP Consultation and Engagement Log

Officers advised in terms of general consultation and engagement, the Scottish Government are currently reviewing the Planning with People guidance on Public Engagement and Public Consultation which was published in 2021. Members of the HSCP have been asked to provide views on how the Planning with People guidance document is being implemented. Officers suggested Members may want to promote the consultation and provide direct feedback to the Scottish Government.
