Scottish Recommended Allowances for Kinship and Fostering Services

Purpose of Report:

To advise the IJB of the Scottish Recommended Allowances for kinship and fostering services agreed by COSLA and the Scottish Government and to seek approval to implement the payment of the proposed allowances backdated to 1st April 2025.

Background/Engagement:

The Scottish Recommended Allowance (SRA) was introduced by Scottish Government in 2023 to ensure a consistent minimum allowance to support kinship and foster carers. The rates have been increased in 2025/26, backdated to 1st April 2025.

This development is aligned to the report of the Independent Care Review and the delivery of the Promise through seeking to strengthen the stability and quality of care arrangements for children and young people who cannot live with their parent/s.

Recommendations:	The Integration Joint Board is asked to: a) Note the proposed Scottish Recommended Allowances; b) Approve the proposed Scottish Recommended Allowances for kinship and foster carers and implementation of the new rates by Glasgow City Council, backdated to 1 st April 2025; and c) Instruct the council to uplift the rates paid to kinship and foster carers as outlined within this report.

Relevance to Integration Joint Board Strategic Plan:

Foster Carers and kinship carers are integral to the delivery of high-quality stable care for children in Glasgow who cannot live at home with their own families. These carers are critical to the delivery of the children’s transformation programme to sustain children and young people’s links to their families, schools and communities in Glasgow. This contributes to achieving the vision set out in the IJB’s Strategic Plan and all of the Partnership Priorities.

Implications for Health and Social Care Partnership:

Reference to National Health & Wellbeing Outcome(s):	Foster and Kinship Carers contribute to key national outcomes by improving outcomes for children and young people, through improving their safety, quality of life and health. Improving support for carers ensures that children and young people have positive experiences, and have their dignity respected, when being supported by services. Such outcomes are aligned to the HSCP’s transformation agenda to strengthen family-based care, thereby securing better outcomes for all children and young people.

Personnel:	None

Carers:	Carers are key stakeholders and partners to ensure the best outcomes for care experienced children and young people. Supports to carers directly benefit the young people in their carer, supporting stability and positive outcomes.

Provider Organisations:	Providers of fostering services commissioned and/or purchased by the HSCP may consider the impact of the SRA on their services, many of which already pay in excess of the SRA.
--------------------------------	---

Equalities:	An EQIA is not deemed necessary. The wider Children’s Transformation Programme, of which the work detailed in this report is a part, has been subject to a recent and updated EQIA.

Fairer Scotland Compliance:	The Children's Transformation Programme actively seeks to reduce inequalities and to support children, young people, and carers to improve their quality of life and reduce the impact of health and social inequalities. Sustainable and stable placements for children and young people not only promotes the opportunity for better outcomes but significantly reduces the cost of additional placements and costs.
Financial:	The adoption of the SRA has financial implications which are detailed in the report. Additional funding of £292,500 has been received from the Scottish Government for this purpose and is intended to cover the difference between current rates paid by Glasgow and the SRA.
Legal:	There are no direct legal implications of implementing the SRA in the way proposed in the report, however all normal legal processes will be followed.
Economic Impact:	Providing children and young people with high quality care makes best use of current resources and mitigates against the need for longer term or specialist resources, through ensuring positive long-term outcomes. Additional financial support mitigates the impact of the cost of living and has a positive economic impact for children and young people, enabling them to achieve educationally and in future employment, through supporting stable consistent high quality care arrangements.
Sustainability:	The implementation of the uplift in the SRA is crucial to mitigate the impact of cost of living pressures on carers and sustaining the availability of kinship and foster carers for Glasgow's children and young people. Continued investment in financially supporting carers is crucial to sustaining the provision of carers, which in turn contributes to sustaining the service's transformational agenda.
Sustainable Procurement and Article 19:	None
Risk Implications:	There are a number of risks associated with decision making in relation to the SRA. It is possible, if unlikely, that a significant, sustained increase in children and young people entering kinship or fostering arrangements could create significant unbudgeted cost pressures. However,

	the greater risk is that failing to implement the SRA will add to destabilisation of kinship and fostering arrangements, contributing to placement breakdown and incurring greater financial expense, and impacting on the wellbeing, stability and safety of children and young people. Scotland is experiencing a significant reduction in the numbers of foster carers entering the role, and a significant number are aging out of caring: financial pressures appear to play a role in deterring prospective carers. The associated increase in the allowance to Kinship Carers also strengthens the opportunity for placement stability and the opportunity for children and young people to remain within their extended families and also often within their local school and local community.

Implications for Glasgow City Council:	As discussed in the report, the implementation of the SRA to carers looking after young people 18 and over, has financial implications over the grant amount, however, failure to implement to all kinship and foster arrangements in scope risks destabilising placements to older young people, increasing the risk of breakdown, and increased financial expense. Not implementing the SRA could cause reputational damage.

1. Purpose

- 1.1 To advise the IJB of the increase and extension to the Scottish Recommended Allowance (SRA) for kinship care and foster care services, previously implemented in 2023 by agreement with COSLA and Scottish Government.
- 1.2 To seek approval to implement the increased SRA allowances, backdated to 1st April 2025.

OFFICIAL

2. Background

- 2.1 In March 2022 the IJB agreed an increase in financial support to the 40% of children in Glasgow's foster and kinship placements who were believed to be below the, then, anticipated Scottish Recommended Allowance (SRA) level.
- 2.2 The SRA was a key commitment in the Programme for Government and in the Scottish Government's Promise Implementation Plan, published in March 2022. It aligns with the Scottish Government priority of tackling child poverty and supporting the most vulnerable in society, especially given the ongoing cost of living crisis. Specifically, the SRA is intended to help ensure that children in foster and kinship care get the support they need to thrive.
- 2.3 When implemented, the SRA introduced parity in the allowances paid to foster carers and kinship carers to meet the costs of care for children who they are looking after, regardless of where they live in Scotland.

The allowances are intended to cover the following:

- Food, toiletries, clothes, wear and tear
 - Hobbies and activities
 - Bedding, furniture
 - Pocket money / toys
 - Insurance and utility bill increases
 - Daily access to a computer and the internet for homework/course work/ mobile phone
 - Transport costs for the child (for the purpose of attending review meetings, children's hearings, contact, travel to school, college or other educational facility)
 - Holiday costs to cover school holiday activities and family trips
 - Birthday / Christmas or other cultural or religious events.
- 2.4 In addition to the allowances, foster carers are also entitled to fees paid by the local authority and kinship carers have the ability to draw down Child Benefit payments, in addition to any other relevant welfare benefits.
- 2.5 In November 2022 the IJB also agreed to increase the fee to foster carers from £150 to £165.
- 2.6 In November 2023, the IJB further agreed to implement the agreed SRA rates, backdated to 1st April 2023. This included the additional four weeks allowance paid to carers to cover additional costs of holidays and birthdays throughout the year.
- 2.7 The HSCP received confirmation from the Scottish Government on 19th June 2025 that the Programme for Government commitment to an inflationary increase in the Scottish Recommended Allowance rate to foster carers and kinship carers would be provided. This enabled an inflationary increase in the SRA rate, backdated for carers to 1st April 2025.

- 2.8 The Government have restricted the SRA to apply to children and young people only up to the age of 18, stating that the forthcoming Scottish Care Leaver's Payment proposed in the forthcoming Children (Care, Care Experienced and Service Planning) Bill, now at stage 3, will provide a one-off payment to financially support those over 18 in kinship and foster care. There is no date for implementation of this Bill.
- 2.9 £292,500 has been awarded to Glasgow City per letter of 19th June 2025: this represents a shortfall of £17,177 for implementation of the allowance only to carers of children and young people under the age of 18, and a shortfall of £104,357 to carers of all young people.

3. Financial Implications

- 3.1 The enhanced rates uplift the allowance to:

AGE	0-4	5-10	11-15	16+
SRA	£171.17	£199.14	£199.14	£272.97

- 3.2 In Glasgow, in March 2026, this equates to excluding 345 young people over 18, who are currently supported in a fostering or kinship placement.

	Provided Foster Care	Supported Care	Host Families	Kinship Care	Adoptive placement	Total no of young people
Under 18	291	9	4	1,153	81	1,538
Over 18	103	108	13	110	11	345

- 3.3 The service currently has 394 children and young people in our provided foster placements, and 1258 in kinship care arrangements.
- 3.4 The service met the cost of uplift to all carers in 2023, in recognition of the risks inherent with differential rates of financial support to carers, and the particular risk of not supporting carers of young people above 18. There is a shortfall of £104,357 in the funding required to award carers of all children and young people the enhanced rate for 2025/26. The service intends to meet this shortfall from existing service budgets.
- 3.5 The concern remains acute that failing to financially support carers of young people aged above 18 could destabilise caring arrangements which could increase the risk of breakdown. This would increase the pressure on 16+ supported accommodation and homelessness services and reduce the support network around young people aged 18-25 at this critical time of staged and supported independence. In turn, this would increase cost pressures for the HSCP, and erode the benefit offered of long term supportive relationships to young people, whether in foster or kinship care.
